

Hienghene II

In the sea live
Somewhere in between
Very dark rocks

Beside somewhere else
There remains a vast bay
So blue and green

At the mouth on
Days of great rain
Nobody

At the bottom over there
Deep in the heart of the country
Houses can be seen

Very early morning
They come back to fish
And to swim

Yzabelle Martineau Department of French University of Western Ontario University College

10/04/00